HME in 2022 & Beyond: Research, Analysis & Commentary on Key Issues

HME providers have weathered a brutal pandemic, a major upheaval in competitive bidding contracting and reimbursement methodologies, and an overall bit of apprehension as to the future of the industry. However, the surge of investment/acquisition activity continues with healthy valuations, as well as a perhaps unexpected uptick in new entrants into the market. Regulatory and Legislative issues and outcomes remain a concern; while uncertain, there are, arguably, encouraging indicators. Mark will research the data, crunch some numbers, monitor the trends, opine with some predictions, interview some key players and offer their synopsis in this must-attend session for senior management.
